Neoen secures AUD 1.8 billion in debt financing to support renewable energy portfolio in Australia

- Neoen has secured AUD 1.8 billion in debt financing from a group of 13 Australian and international lenders
- The 1.2 GW Australian renewable energy portfolio financed includes 2 wind farms, 2 battery storage projects and a solar farm across three different states
- Since 2024 Neoen has raised a total of over AUD 5 billion in debt financing covering 4.7 GW of capacity distributed across 20 assets in Australia

Neoen, one of the world's leading renewable energy companies, has raised a new debt financing package of AUD 1.8 billion from a group of 13 lenders for a renewable energy portfolio of 5 assets. The 1.2 GW portfolio financed is comprised of 2 wind farms, 2 battery storage projects and a solar farm.

The Australian and international lenders involved are; ANZ, Bank of America, Bank of China, Clean Energy Finance Corporation, Export Development Canada, HSBC, ING, KfW IPEX, Mizuho, NAB, UOB, Société Générale, and Westpac.

The portfolio consists of a mix of operating assets and those under construction, as follows:

- Hornsdale Power Reserve (150 MW / 193.5 MWh) in South Australia
- Goyder South Wind Farm Stage 1A (209 MW) in South Australia
- Culcairn Solar Farm (440 MWp) in New South Wales
- Culcairn Battery (215 MW / 963 MWh) in New South Wales
- Narrogin Wind Farm (179 MW) in Western Australia

Including this new financing, Neoen has raised a total of over AUD 5 billion in debt financing since 2024, covering 4.7 GW of combined capacity distributed across 20 wind, solar and storage assets in multiple Australian states.

Neoen is Australia's largest renewable energy company, having contributed over 6 GW in wind, solar, and storage capacity to the country's energy transition. With an extensive development pipeline and a multibillion-dollar forward investment plan, Neoen's ambition is to reach 10 GW in Australia by 2030.

Jean-Christophe Cheylus, Neoen's Regional CEO Australia Pacific, said: "We are delighted to announce this new portfolio financing, and we extend our thanks to all our lenders for their trust and commitment. We value the continued support of our long-term partners, and we welcome the arrival of new lenders. This landmark transaction underlines the strength, depth and growth of our portfolio in Australia."

Xavier Barbaro, Neoen's Group CEO, concluded: "I would like to congratulate the Neoen team on the successful completion of this portfolio financing in Australia, our largest financing to date. This transaction reflects the quality and diversity of our assets and demonstrates our ability to optimise our financing structure and strengthen our balance sheet. This, in turn, reinforces our capacity to invest in new projects and to consolidate Neoen's position as the leading player in Australia's energy transition."
